

5-Element Meridian Wellness Guide: Somatic Practices to Reset Your Body, Mind & Emotions

Ground, replenish & restore your body's natural rhythm.

This guide offers elemental meridian nourishment through body-based prompts and reflections. You'll find full mini-practice bundles for each element as well. If you're unsure of where to begin, I recommend the Water & Earth elements, the two most common imbalances in highly sensitive nervous systems.

These practices are rooted in the wisdom of Chinese Medicine, Meridian Theory, and my Holistic Liberation approach: restoring your rhythm, nourishing your nervous system, and reconnecting with your body's deeper knowing.

With care,
Jyllin
Founder of Holistic Liberation

How to Use This Kit

1. Start where you feel most drawn — or with Water or Earth if you're unsure. (You can also use insights from my 5-element quiz that you can take here.)
2. Choose one practice from that element and commit to trying it once or daily for a week. If you prefer a yoga-only approach, use my 5-element meridian yoga guide with 5 practices that are specifically designed for daily use.
3. Let it be simple. These practices are seeds. You're not doing it wrong if you only pause to reflect.
4. Notice what sensations, emotions, or ideas arise during or after.
5. If you enjoy a prompt, explore the bonus practices for that element.

This guide is designed to help you reconnect with your own wisdom. It's not about doing more. It's about doing what matters.

Water: Deep Rest & Nervous System Repair

Prompt:

What would it feel like to trust that rest is productive?

Mini-Practices:

Yin Yoga Pose—Supported Forward Fold: Sit on the floor with a bolster across your thighs. Gently fold forward and breathe into your back body. Hold for 3-5 minutes. Let gravity do the work.

Reflection Prompt: What boundary could I uphold to protect my rest?

Bonus Practices:

Try any of my water element practices for the kidney & bladder meridians including yin and yang meridian yoga, EFT tapping, guided breathwork, and meditation here.

Earth: Grounded Nourishment & Self-Worth

Prompt:

How can I offer myself the care I so easily give to others?

Mini-Practices:

Habit Prompt: Eat one meal today without multitasking. Before eating, place a hand on your belly and ask: What am I truly hungry for?

Reflection Prompt: How does slowing down shift the way I receive nourishment?

Bonus Practices:

Try any of my earth element practices for the spleen & stomach meridians including yin and yang meridian yoga, EFT tapping, guided breathwork, and meditation here.

Wood: Vision, Decision & Action

Prompt: What would it feel like to trust my inner yes — and honor my no?

Pause and place a hand on your side ribs or hips. Feel into where you've been holding back — or pushing through. Ask: What's one small, doable action I can take this week to honor where I'm being pulled forward... or feeling called to root?

Bonus Practices:

Try any of my wood element practices for the liver & gallbladder meridians including yin and yang meridian yoga, EFT tapping, guided breathwork, and meditation here.

Fire: Expression & Connection

Prompt: What helps me feel safe to express my truth?

Close your eyes and breathe into your heart space. Notice any warmth, ache, or tension. Ask your body: What does this part of me need to feel expressed?

Bonus Practices:

Try any of my fire element practices for the heart, small intestine, pericardium, and triple heater meridians including yin and yang meridian yoga, EFT tapping, guided breathwork, and meditation here.

Metal: Release & Reverence

Prompt: What am I ready to let go of, with gratitude?

Gently run your hands down your arms and across your chest. Imagine releasing what no longer serves you on each exhale. Feel the breath clearing space, lightening your physical, mental, and emotional load.

Bonus Practices:

Try any of my metal element practices for the lung & large intestine meridians including yin and yang meridian yoga, EFT tapping, guided breathwork, and meditation here.

Want More Personalized Support?

While these practices are a beautiful starting point, working with me one-on-one is entirely different. My personalized 5-element based, trauma-informed EFT, meridian yoga, and holistic health & habit coaching are designed around your body, your rhythms, and your life. If you're curious about journeying deeper transformation, or want to explore the Holistic Liberation Program, you can learn more about it here.